ADITUM ALTERNATIVE INCOME FUND COMMENTARY

September was the most difficult month for fixed income markets for some time. The Fed confirmed plans to moderate asset purchases as early as November this year, rate projections suggest materially higher rates in the coming years and inflation concerns abounded with supply chains and energy markets coming under particular pressure. This made for a very turbulent second half of the month and even the safest markets were adversely hit.

Against this difficult backdrop, the fund recorded a flat return with the majority of alternative assets recording gains, largely offsetting negative performance seen on our more liquid fixed income holdings which were moderately impacted by the sell off. On a year-to-date basis, global high yield and emerging market debt assets have remained top performers in our allocation to traditional fixed income assets. In alternatives, particularly semi-liquid alternatives, we have further diversified our exposure and allocated to the US consumer credit space, which we believe should enhance fund performance without an increase in volatility. The underlying asset pool is fairly granular with an average duration of ~1.35yrs. We view this asset class as complementary to our strategic positioning within the alternatives space and will look to increase our exposure gradually. This move is funded by cash distributions from other holdings as well as the reduction in one of our diversified fixed income holdings.

*This indicative benchmark is calculated by Aditum Investment Management Limited using the USD 1M LIBOR rate published by ICE, assuming ACT/360 interest rate calculation, full notional invested and reinvested each month as of the last rate published the previous month.
