ADITUM ALTERNATIVE INCOME FUND COMMENTARY

March saw a continuation of many of the prominent themes seen over the last few months which has led to a very challenging first quarter for markets globally.

The ongoing geopolitical conflicts continue to put pressure on commodity prices, supply chain networks and ultimately increasing already elevated inflation levels. Central banks remain in the spotlight as markets look to them to strike the balance between taming inflation and supporting wider economic growth.

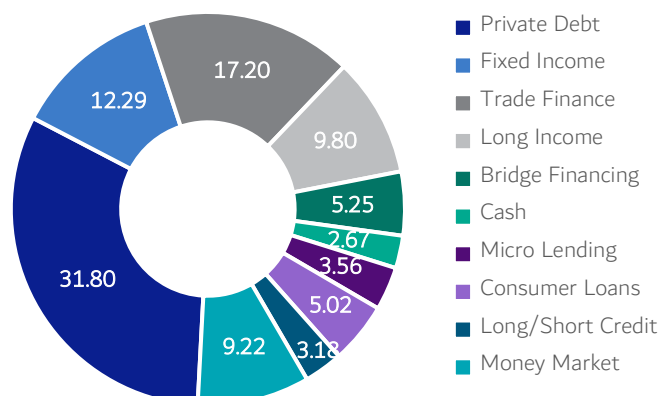

The U.S Fed has made its first move to tackle this and has signaled a clearer and more hawkish stance on monetary policy with a rate increase of 0.25%, with further hikes expected over the coming quarters. This stance has contributed to the U.S dollar gaining ~2% against the British Pound.

The Fund delivered a slight loss of (0.23)% primarily driven by the continued sell off in risk assets. We have reduced further the Fund's exposure to fixed income and reallocated to areas we see as more resilient with the ability to deliver strong outcomes – capturing alpha whilst offering downside protection. We have further increased our exposure to UK Long Income by ~$1.2m, diversified our consumer loan exposure by adding $1.5m to Global Consumer Loan assets and increased our exposure to trade finance with direct, short-dated exposure.

*This indicative benchmark is calculated by Aditum Investment Management Limited using the USD 1M LIBOR rate published by ICE, assuming ACT/360 interest rate calculation, full notional invested and reinvested each month as of the last rate published the previous month.
