INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES:

The Aditum Alternative Income Fund aims to deliver attractive risk-adjusted returns by investing in assets, predominantly collective investment schemes, that are expected to generate income and capital growth over a 3yr period. It will seek to deliver risk-adjusted returns versus traditional fixed income funds with similar credit qualities and durations.

The performance data shown is for the duration of the Aditum Alternative Income Fund A (Acc) USD share class which commenced its investment program in August 2019. *Peer group data source: FE Analytics. Past performance is not an indicator or guarantee of future performance. The value of shares in the fund and income received from it can go down as well as up, and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Performance may also be affected by currency fluctuations of the underlying holdings.

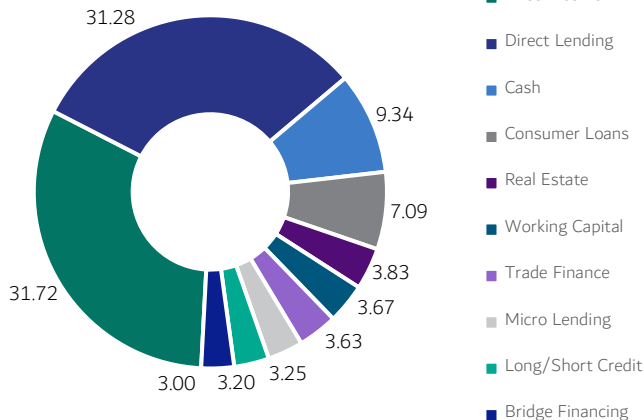

ADITUM ALTERNATIVE INCOME FUND COMMENTARY

April was a challenging month for risk assets, largely driven by the changing interest rate environment, stemming from continued strength in economic data out of the US. This has further damped any hopes of sizeable rate cuts this year. Off the back of this, 2-year Treasury yields rose to 5.0%, while the 10-year yield rose 4.7%. Similar to last month, in April we saw markets revise rate cut expectations, we saw a reduction by one and half rate cuts.

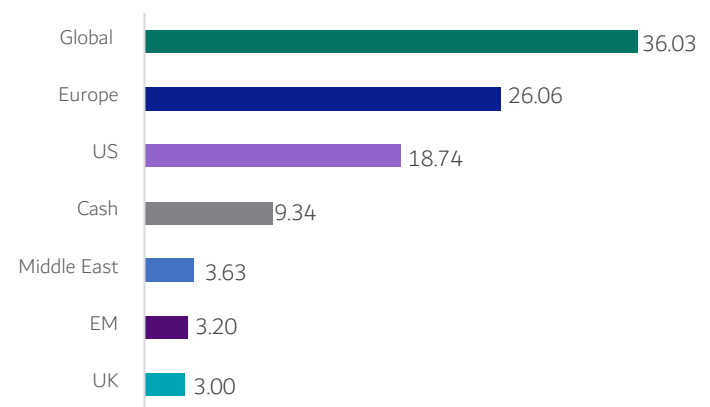

Elsewhere, in the UK headline inflation also retreated down 0.2% from February to 3.2% in March, though there are still concerns over some components. With inflation gradually moving in the right direction and economic growth flatlining, the prospects of rate cuts by The Bank of England (BoE) are higher than that of the US Federal Reserve. First rate cut by the BoE is now expected in September with three hikes priced in. In Europe we see a similar tune, with ECB expected to cut rates starting June/July.

The Fund delivered a negative return of 0.57% but with positive performance recorded across all alternative holdings. The Funds liquid fixed income exposure detracted from performance as the asset class was suffering from volatility in the rate environment. We expect the duration positioning on our fixed income exposure to pay off in the near term. Trading activity for the Fund included an additional $2mm top up in Principal Alternative Credit, a holding which focuses specifically on US Middle Market – Private Debt space. The full amount is due to be called in May, which will enable the Fund to benefit from performance early on in a space which has continued to display resilience.
