MAY HIGHLIGHTS:

Balanced CMBS sleeve

Increased CMBS IO exposure by 2% with a secondary market purchase. Portfolio spreads tightened and the credit curve flattened as a demand for CMBS remained strong and new issue Conduit supply was limited. AAA bonds provide defensive positioning, liquidity, and reasonable carry. AA and Single-A bonds offer relative value, attractive positioning on the CMBS credit curve, strong carry, and longer-term total return potential. Interest only strips contribute high current yield, lower duration, and a unique cash flow that aids in portfolio diversification.

CMBS Cash Proxy Sleeve

Sold two bonds over the month totaling ~$1.9mn as part of a total $5M reallocation into the REIT sleeve. Portfolio remains concentrated in AAA securities carrying defensive credit positioning and strong liquidity profiles including Agency guaranteed and conduit super senior AAA bonds. High quality portfolio composition generated positive returns for the month.

REIT Sleeve

The portfolio outperformed the benchmark on selection in the Americas and Europe. In the US, selection within and the overweight to healthcare benefitted from exposure to senior housing REITS that announced earnings beats. The exposure to out of the benchmark towers was additive as the portfolio's sole tower holding announced solid results and an uptick in carrier leasing activity. The underweight to and selection within net lease was a tailwind as the sector lagged in the face of higher bond yields. In Europe, selection within French retail was the main contributor, supported by signs of an uptick in activity. Detraction came from the underweight to US malls which did well on a guidance raise from one of the large mall operators.
