Signature CIO Growth Fund Open Ended IC PLC

MASTER FUND COMMENTARY

As of 30 May 2025

Fund Performance

The Signature CIO Growth Fund delivered strong positive returns in May. Maintaining a balanced and diversified exposure across regions and countries contributed significantly to the portfolio's total return.

Markets continued to rise in May, driven by improved consumer sentiment and easing trade tensions, particularly progress in US-EU trade negotiations and a temporary halt in tariff increases. This positive environment boosted developed market equities and emerging markets, which benefited from a weaker US dollar.

Our opportunistic trade in European industrials equity yielded strong absolute and relative returns, supported by robust Q1 2025 earnings in civil aerospace and defence sectors. We took profit following a rebound in risk assets amid positive US-EU trade talks. Industrials remain a cyclical sector and slower growth remains a risk for both Europe and globally.

On the flip side, our overweight in DM IG Government bonds detracted from performance, as government bond markets posted negative returns. The US 10-year Treasury bond yield rose due to rising fiscal concerns, including Moody's downgrade of the US sovereign credit outlook and weak demand at long-dated Treasury auctions, triggering a mid-month sell-off in duration.

Our underweight in EM USD Government bond underperformed as well. While sovereign bond markets came under pressure in May, credit markets fared better, with spread compression observed across DM HY, EM USD, and Asia USD bonds, buoyed by improving risk appetite.

Additionally, our overweight in gold did not work, with gold prices falling as the improving risk environment reduced demand for defensive assets.

Lastly, both opportunistic trades in US long-dated TIPS and US Agency MBS delivered small negative returns, mainly due to higher Treasury yields.

Fund Positioning

We raised global equities to Overweight as trade policy risk have eased, and market technical indicators have improved. More trade deals and resilience in economic activity data are key to sustaining the rally in the near term. In our portfolio, we increased allocation to equity slightly, mostly funded by cash.

Within global equities, we added to US equities marginally as the Global Investment Committee (GIC) upgraded the view to Overweight. Q1'25 earnings are resilient, with generally positive forward earnings guidance. Further de-escalation in trade talks will support earnings projections. This is partly funded by trimming UK equities as the preference for this country has been downgraded to Underweight. UK equities are heavy on defensive sectors, which go against our "pro-risk" stance. We also see positives from the region's trade deal with the US to be largely priced in following its strong rally since the "Liberation Day".

We prefer a diversified bond allocation with a balanced tilt between rates and credit. Specifically, we slightly trimmed the exposure to DM IG Government bonds as GIC downgraded the preference for this asset to neutral. Concurrently, we marginally added to EM USD bonds following an upgrade in view to neutral (from Underweight).

We trimmed the gold allocation following a downgrade in preference for this metal to a core holding. After the surge in prices year-to-date, a period of consolidation is likely before the next leg higher.

For opportunistic ideas, we have recently closed Europe Industrials at a profit following the recent rally. We retained the positions in US long-duration TIPS and US Agency MBS. Additionally, we initiated a new position in US long-dated bonds. The risk-reward has turned attractive as 20-year-plus bond yields are trading at the upper end of the 3-month range and have underperformed the shorter end of the UST yield curve.
